This year the Annual Staff dedicates the annual to our advisor, Mr. Majeski, who deserves more credit than anyone for getting the annual out. He has been not only an advisor and teacher to us, but a good friend as well, and we can think of no one we would rather dedicate this book to. Our sincerest thanks to you Mr. Majeski, for all that you have done for us.

Pieces of April

Pieces of April

The Junior Class of 1973 presented the Seniors with a beautiful and memorable Prom. Activities of the evening began with the banquet. Entertainment was provided by Gary Punt who sang "Pieces of April", and a touching message concerning P.O.W.'s was delivered by Father Halloran.

The Grand March which was lead by the Junior and Senior class officers got underway at 9:00 p.m. with music provided by Wakefield Union. After the dance, everyone could agree with Longfellow that "Nothing now is left but majestic memory."

POP CONCERT '73

After a year of hard work the Pipestone High School Concert Band, Pop Singers, and Stage Band closed their season with the annual Pop Concert, held Tuesday May 1, 1973. The music varied from light classical arrangements like "Selections from 1776" to jazz and rock such as "Sam's Boogie" and "Popcorn". The evening was highlighted by the drawing for a color television set which was one of the bands projects to raise money for future trips. The '73 Pop Concert was a BIG success.

GOLF "73"

The 1973 season started with a 3 day Southern Trip to Nebraska. A total of 14 matches were played with Pipestone winning 5, they placed 7th in the Conference and 4th in District. The best rounds were 30's. It was a fun and successful year and with six returning lettermen the season looks good. These guys are: Lyle Korver, Randy Ronning, G. L. Tucker, Bill Kempenich, Mark Yseth, and Craig Spawn. Selected as most valuable was Lyle Korver.

TRACK

The Arrows competed in both large and small meets throughout the course of the season. In many meets there are no points kept. The Arrows had a very respectable season when one considers that it was a rebuilding year. The team was made up of mostly freshman and sophomores with only three seniors, Fred Backlund, Jeff Brockberg and Bruce Remme. Tom Sorenson, sophomore and Tom Newgard, junior, both competed in the State Track Meet. Tom Newgard was most valuable member of the team, he set a new high school high-jump mark with a jump of 6'3". The juniors and seniors accounted for seven track records either here at school or in other towns. The frosh and sophmores accounted for twelve records either here at school or in other towns. The frosh and sophmores won the conference with a total of 73 points over the classes competition with 37 points. They set 5 conference records. The team was third in sub-region qualifying eleven boys for Region of which only three boys were seniors. The underclassmen made giant strides forward looking to next season.

Robert Nangle

TENNIS "72"- "73"

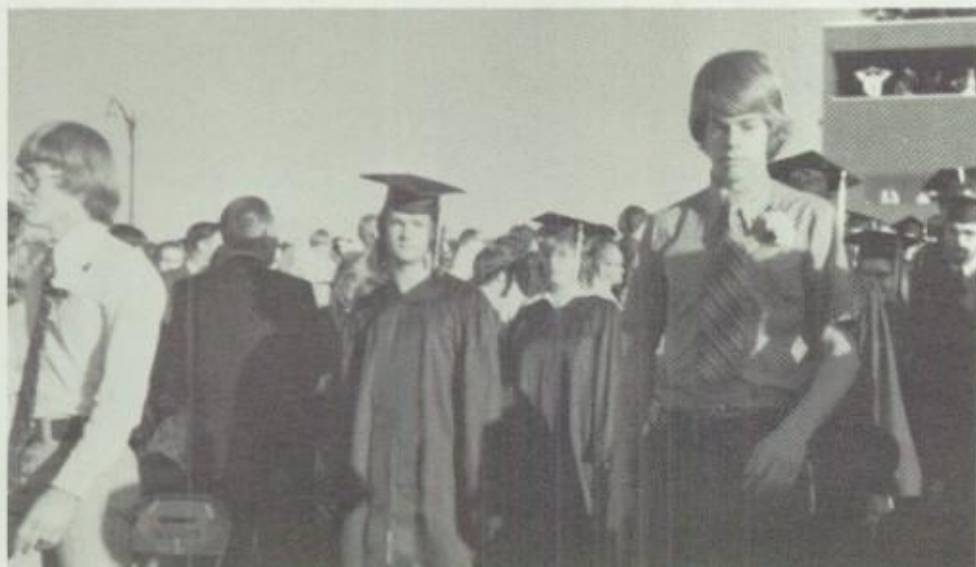

The tennis team of '73 began a year of rebuilding as the squad consisted of two seniors and ten underclassmen. Representing Pipestone well throughout the year and in District competition was Mike Morgan and Dean Niehus. These two Freshman placed first in the District contest and were eligible for Region competition.

John Stone presented the Seniors with their diplomas. LuAnne Erickson and the Senior mixed chorus each sang a musical presentation. The traditional peacepipe was presented by Jeff Brockberg to Liz O'Connor who represented the Junior Class.

After the ceremonies the Seniors, relieved and happy, boarded the busses back to the school and went home to celebrate. The Baccalaureate services were held at St. Leo's Sunday night prior to graduation.

SUMMER

BOYS-GIRLS STATE

Cheryl

Jim

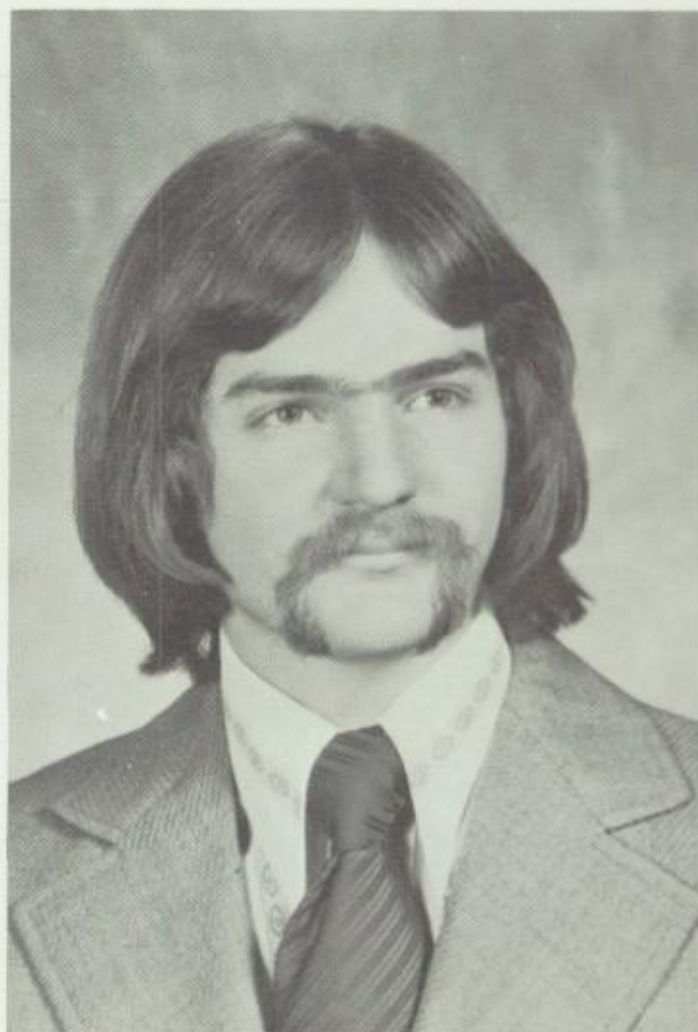

Phil

This summer three students went to Boy's and Girl's State from PHS. Cheryl Schroyer attended Girl's State at St. Catherine's College in St. Paul, and Jim Stavenger and Phil Jacobsma attended Boy's State at St. John's University in Collegeville. They participated in a model government program sponsored by the Minnesota American Legion. During the week-long program the students were active in elections of fellow students to various state offices up to and including Governor and they attended lectures on local and state government. The program is designed to give students actual experience with government.

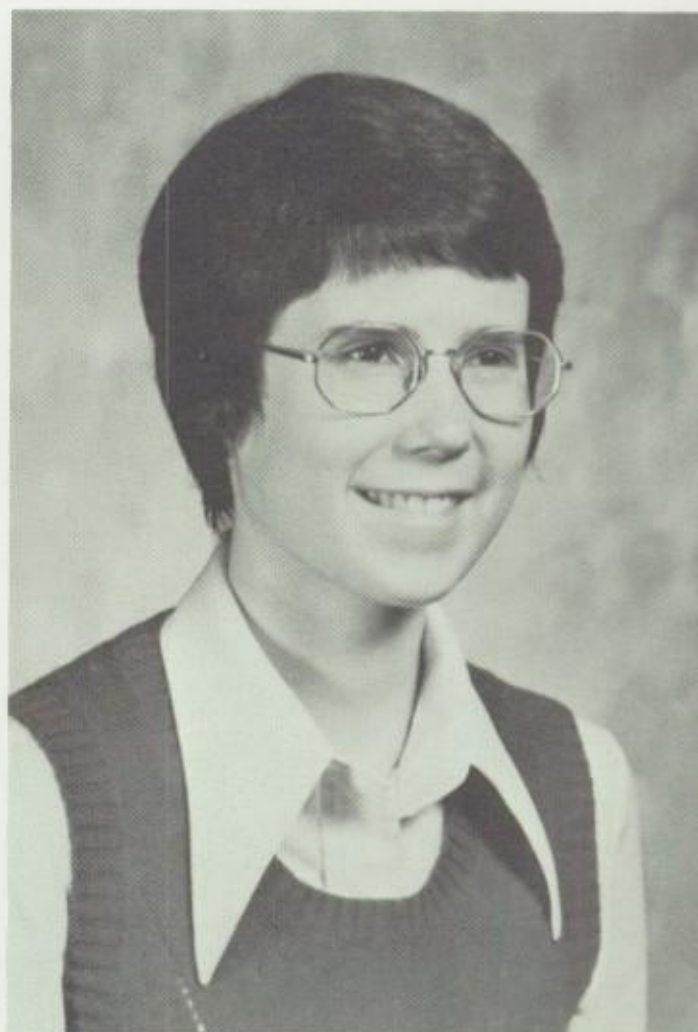

ALL STATE BAND-NATIONAL SPEECH

Bruce Linnemeyer was one of the few high school students selected to participate in All-State Band for two consecutive years. To achieve this accomplishment Bruce put in many long hours of practice. All-State was held this year during the first week of August at Bemidji State College. It included guest conductors from many parts of the country, and the band produced a record at the end of the week.

Bruce

Liz O'Connor qualified for the second consecutive year for the National Speech Tournament this year. Liz first took part in the 1973 contest that was held in Pittsburgh. This season she was again selected from the Original Oratory category for the contest at Dallas Texas. Liz was the first student from Pipestone to be entered in a National Speech Tournament.

SUMMER JOBS

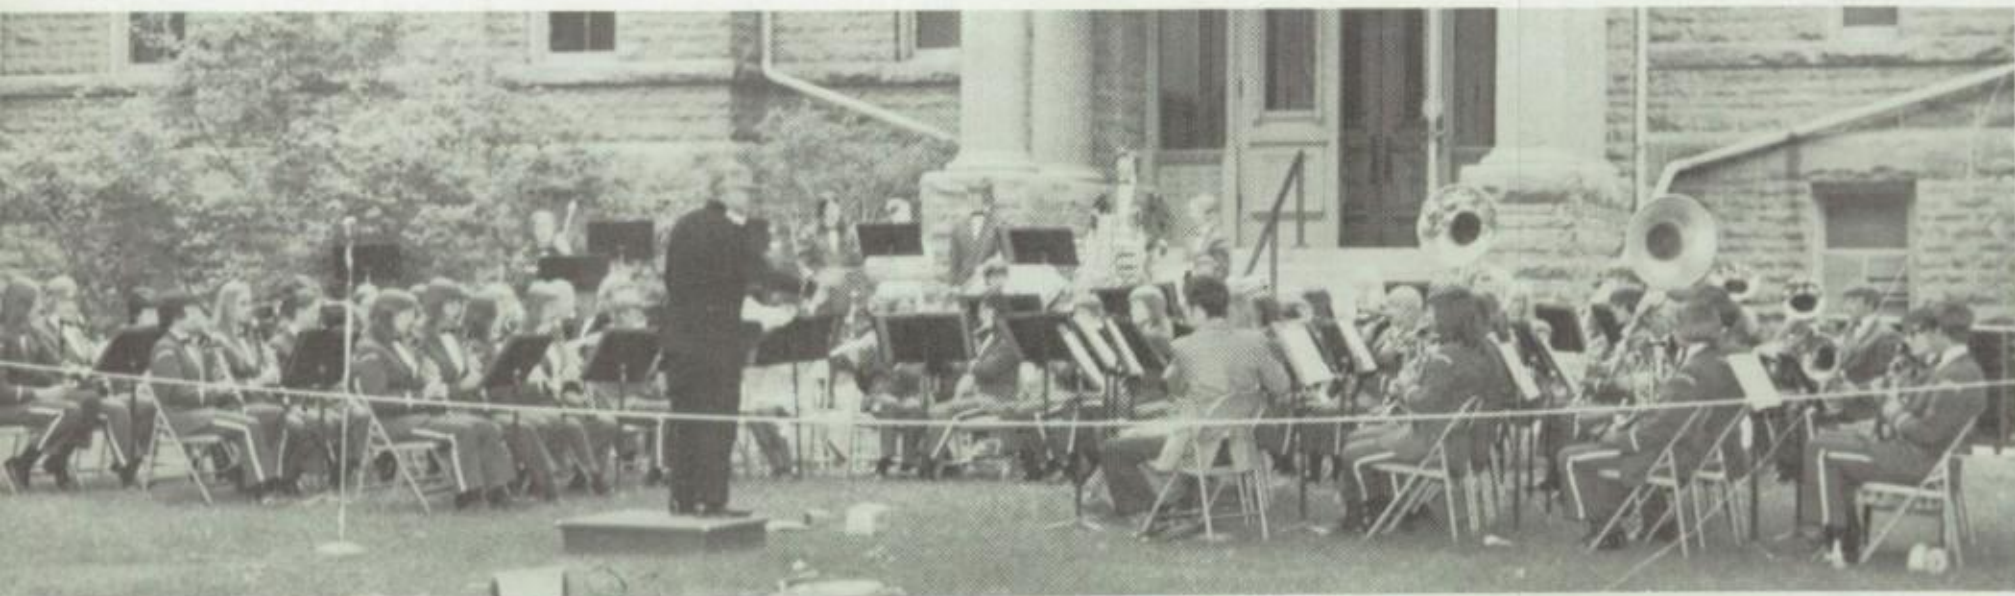

The summer of '73' students worked at a variety of jobs from fixing cars or picking weeds to serving root beer and cutting chicken. Many worked at the local A&W or the Dari-King, and others worked at various jobs around town. After a summer of back breaking labor! they probably all agreed with the wise old saying, "A penny saved is a penny earned, so I'll save a penny and let's go out and spend the rest."

SUMMER ACTIVITIES

The summer of '73 was a typical summer, if there is such a thing. As during every other summer, students who weren't cursed with jobs occupied themselves with swimming, fishing, tennis, cruising around the square, or just hanging around. Nothing really momentous happened, but nothing really terrible happened either. It was just a plain old summer, and maybe that's the best kind.

FAIR '73

The Pipestone County Fair, held August 20, 21, and 22, brought laughs and thrills to all who attended. This year a new show was added to the Grandstand Performances; the Motorcycle Thrill Show. The Demolition Derby, though, remained the most popular show. The Midway was favored most by the younger people, with the livestock shows attracting many older spectators. Some things never change, and the fair is one of them. Its arrival next year will be anxiously awaited.

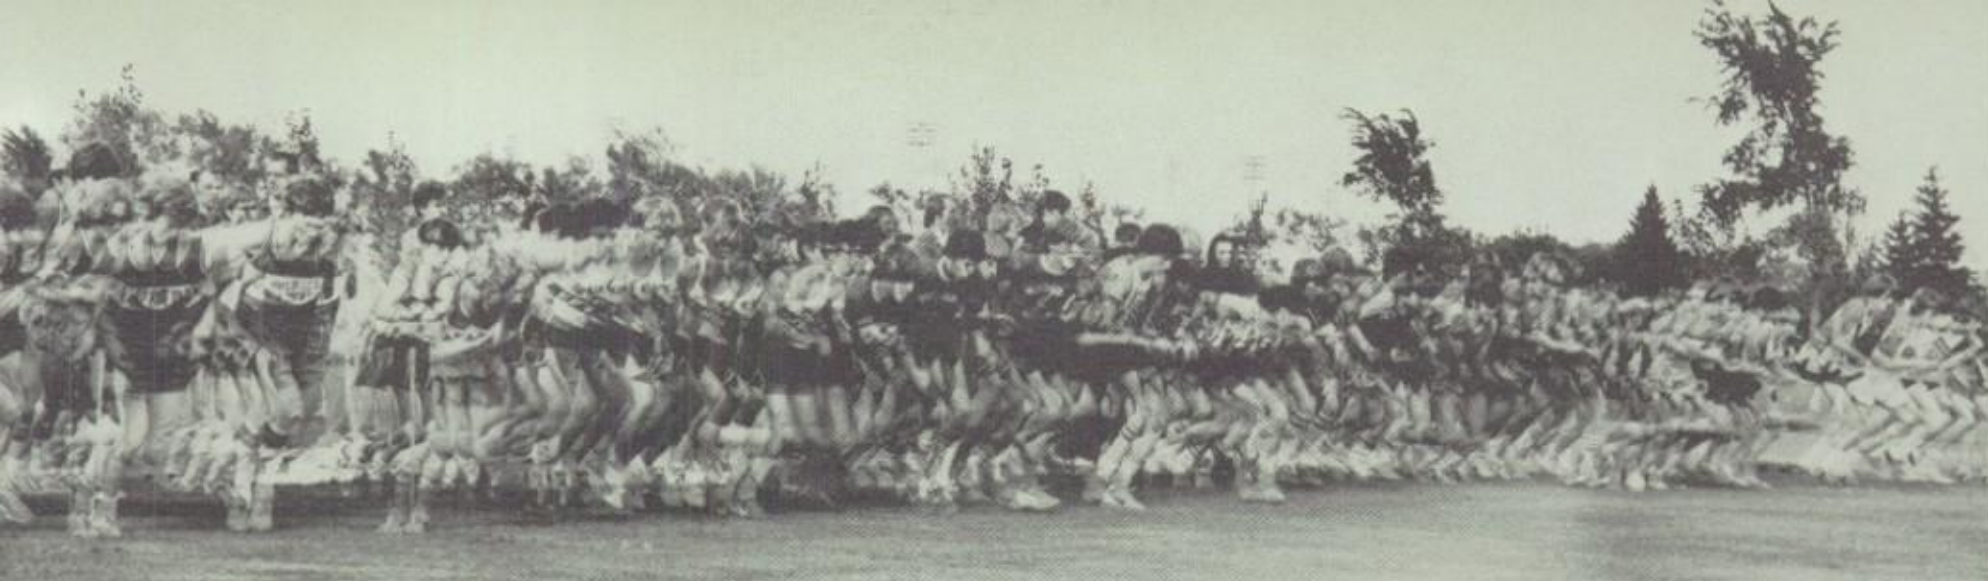

FALL

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

The summer ended and the students of PHS found themselves back in the familiar old classrooms and halls of Central School. But the 1973-74 school year brought a new change in the educational system for the Senior High students. This year the Tri-mester System was introduced. Some classes, such as Chorus, Bookkeeping, Chemistry, and Algebra continued throughout the entire year. However, most of the other classes were changed into 12-week courses. A wide variety of classes were offered for the students to choose from. As is always true when any new methods are introduced, there was some confusion at first. The system will be continued again next year with some improvements being made.

CROSS COUNTRY

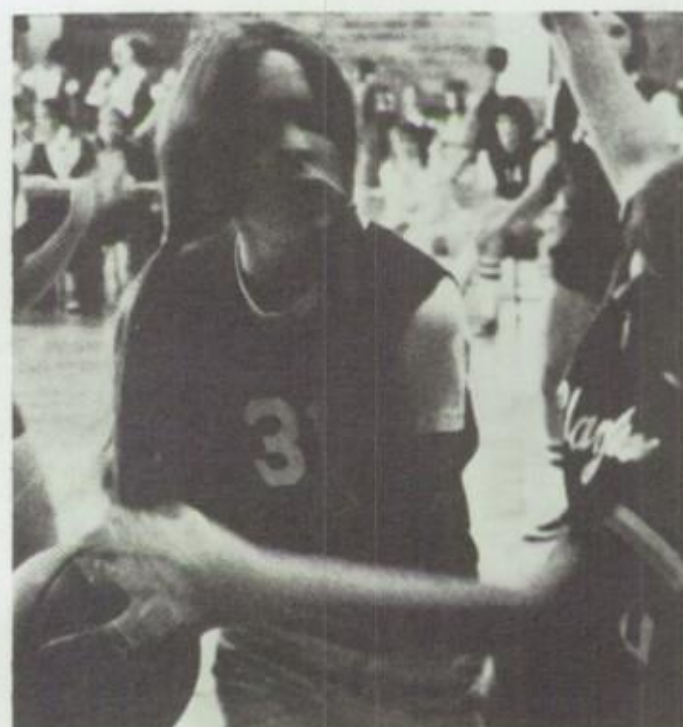

Cross Country 1973 proved to be a rebuilding year as there were no seniors participating. Jim Keyes was the 1973 captain and together with Dave Koll they will be the 1974 co-captains. The most valuable player voted by his team members for 1973 was Rod Russell. The returning lettermen for 1974 are:

Jim Keyes
 Dave Koll
 Bruce Erickson
 Tom Scott
 Todd Texley
 Rod Russell

Although to most people watching, the five minute performance given by the Arrowettes seems simple and easy to do, they are actually very difficult. The 24 girls in Arrowettes make up their own routines, spend many long hours perfecting them, and then present them as half-time entertainment at football and basketball games. This year the Arrowettes gave 4 of these performances. The '73-74' captain was Barb Kruisselbrink, and the co-captains were Laurene Gorter and Deb Carmody. Mrs. Koch and Miss Christensen are the advisors.

Perry Kozlowski and Jim Stavenger were named to the Southwest All-Conference Football Team, with Steve Thies receiving Honorable Mention.

HOMECOMING 1973

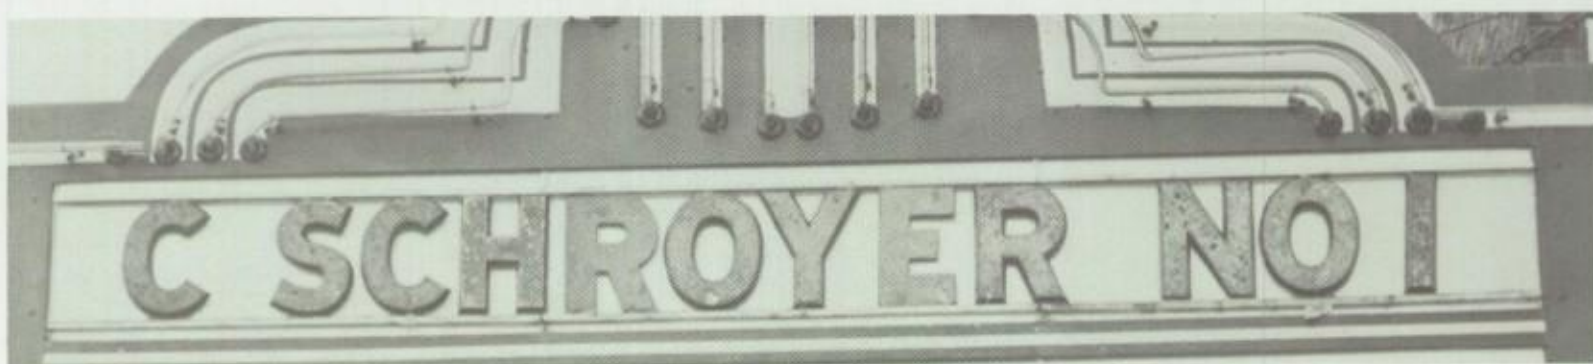

The theme for our 1973 - 1974 Homecoming was "Fall Harvest." Homecoming festivities began on Sept. 20 with Coronation. Our 5 lovely candidates were: Jill Klosterman, Sandi Moore, Sheilah Olsen, Laurie Remme, and Cheryl Schroyer. The excitement mounted as our 1972 Queen, Rhonda Jones, handed the bouquet of roses to our new 1973-1974 Homecoming Queen, Cheryl Schroyer. After Coronation, Queen Cheryl lit the traditional bonfire.

The following night the Pipestone Arrows met the Window Eagles. The Arrows dominated throughout the game and came through with a victory of 32 to 8.

A finishing touch to the Homecoming activities was the dance on Saturday night. The "Apostles" provided music for a very exciting evening. As everyone departed they left with very fond memories of Homecoming 1973.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

In the last two years four students from other countries have attended school in Pipestone. Last year the foreign exchange student was Maria Gonzalez, from Mexico. Maria stayed with the Gene Russell family. This year there were three students from other countries; Yvonne Tecklenburg from the Netherlands - who stayed with the Kruisselbrink family, Ari Pykonen from Finland, who stayed at the Lingen residence, and Jaime Moreno from Columbia. Jaime resided with the Veldhuizen family. They all made many friends here and they will be remembered by all.

SENIOR GIRL'S TEA

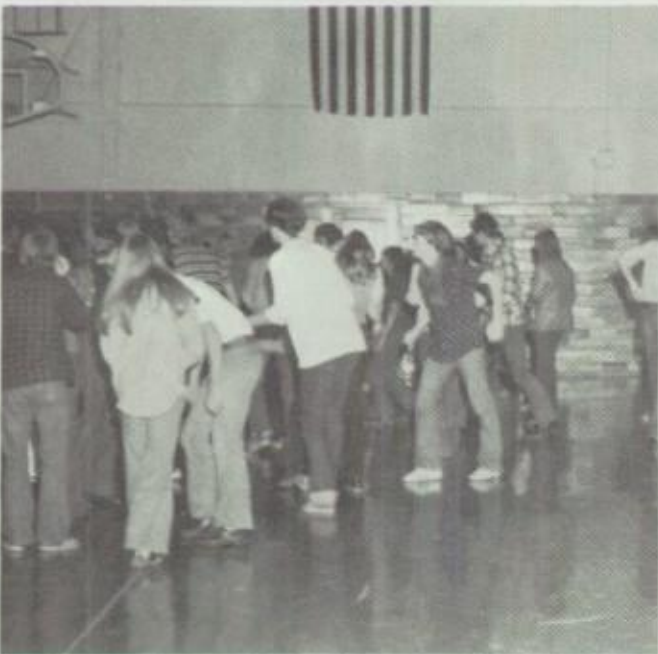

It was a rainy Wednesday afternoon in late September when the senior girls gathered at the Presbyterian Church for the annual Senior Girl's Tea. The American Association of University Women sponsors this event each year.

After a lunch of cake and tea Mrs. Fuhrmannek, the president of A.A.U.W. introduced the special speaker for the day. Miss Karen Johnson from Worthington Community College talked to the girls about nursing careers.

SADIE HAWKINS

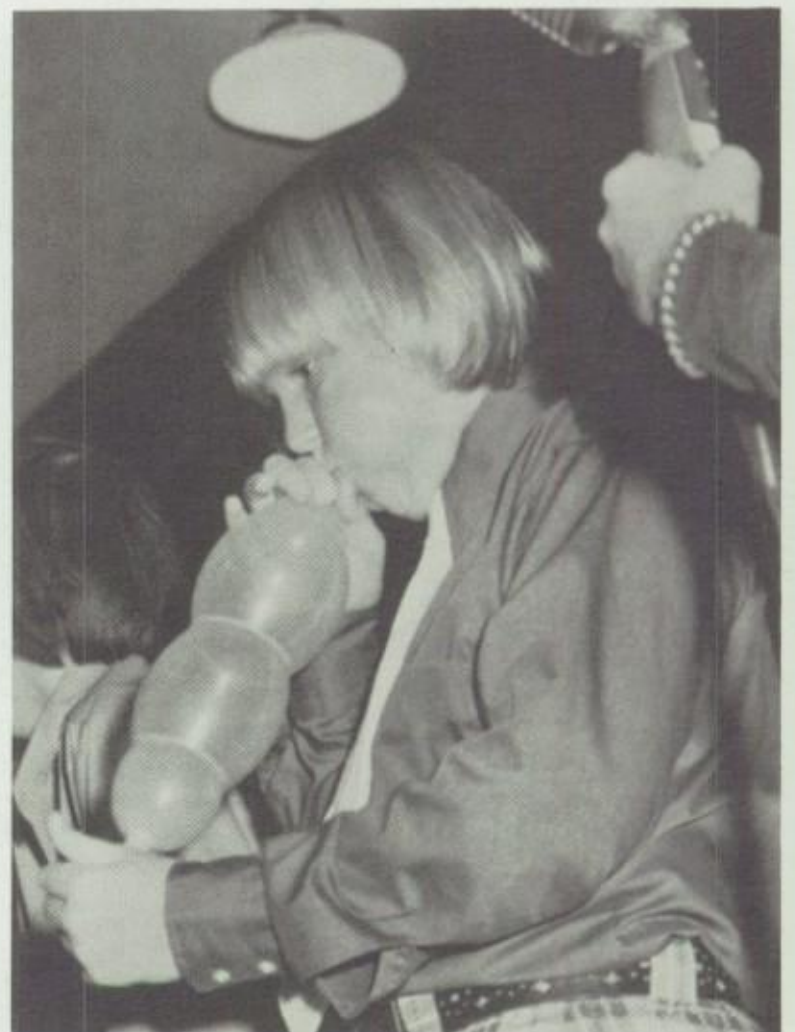

The annual Sadie Hawkins dance was held on November 16, in the Central Gym. Music was provided by Birnum Wood. Again this year Lester Langren was the Marryin' Sam and Divorcin' Dan. The turn out was great and everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves.

9TH GRADE CLASS PARTY

The 9th Grade Class Party was also held on November 16th. This years party was at Dolson Hill School. Door prizes were awarded to numerous students. Considering it was the last Jr. High party for the ninth graders, it turned out to be fun.

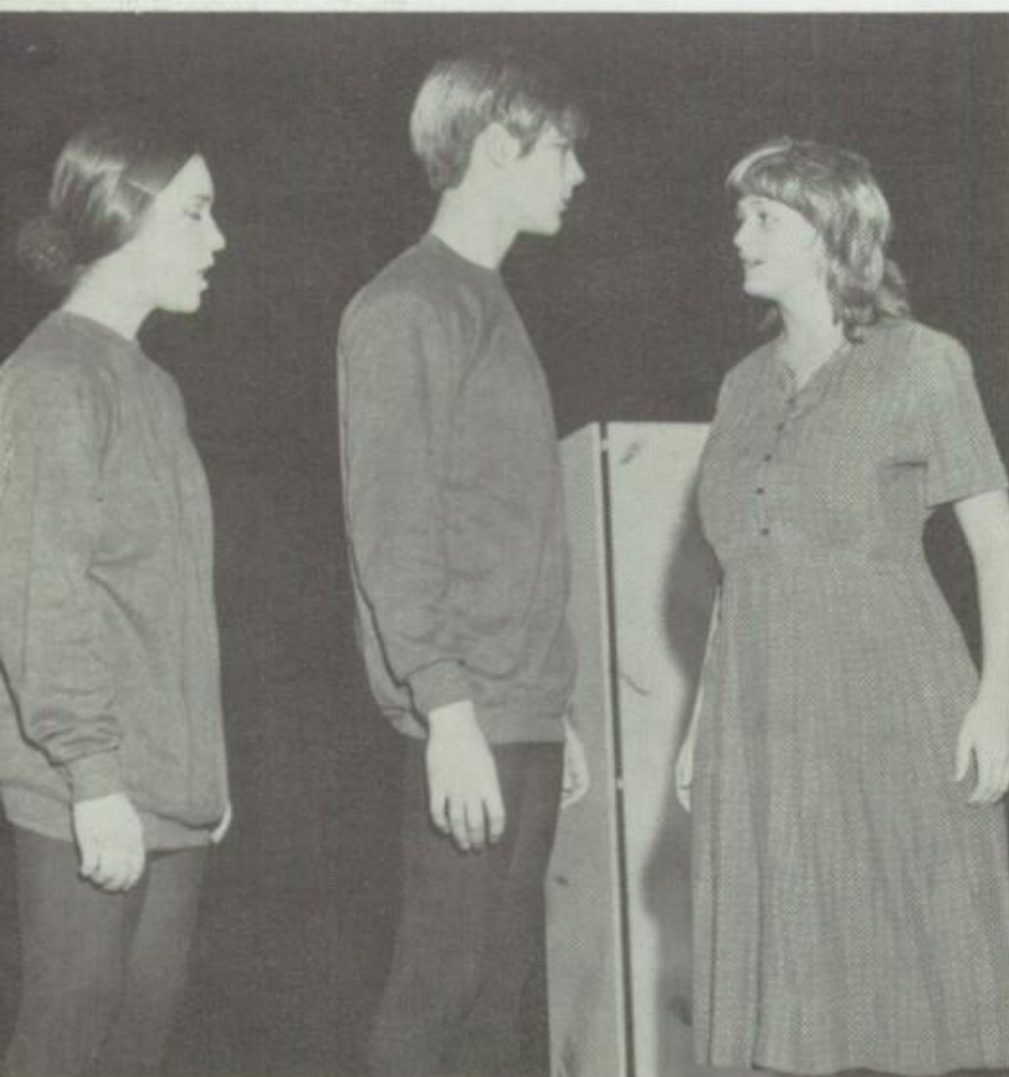

1984

"All hail Big Brother. All love Big Brother." What does this mean? What does the future of mankind have in store for its victims?

This year, the Fall Play, 1984, under the direction of James Adams, supplied PHS with a possible answer.

The play is based on the novel 1984 by George Orwell. When first published, it was a very controversial novel. However, it now seems applicable to the world situation.

After a very trying dress rehearsal with "Sugar Face" Swanson and company, the play was presented "sweetly" on November 19th and 20th.

IN MEMORIUM

Pipestone High School mourned the loss of two graduating seniors. Rick Fellman died on March 15 as a result of gun shot wounds. Paula Loose was killed in a car accident on May 10.

Rick, the son of Mrs. Lucy Fellman, worked at Erickson's Service Station, was active in DECA, and had a deep love for music.

Paula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Loose, was co-editor of the Smoke Signal, participated in sports activities, and enjoyed showing horses.

These two people touched the lives of many, and are loved and remembered by all.

"The Bald Soprano," directed by James Adams was Pipestone's entry in the District 8 one-act play contest and received a A rating and first alternate to Region. Members of the cast were: Paul Gillin as Mr. Smith, Kathie Brengson as Mrs. Smith, Cindy Goodspeed as Mrs. Martin, Gary Sundermeyer as Mr. Martin, Mary Teas as the Maid, Bill Tepley as the Firecheif. Cindy Swanson and Mark Everett were student directors.

Lack of communication was the theme and this was emphasized by the cast wearing masks and uniform costumes.

This year's Arrow Basketball team finished with an 8-11 record and a 6-7 record in conference play. Due to the energy crisis the Pipestone Holiday Tourney never materialized with the team being unable to practice as a unit for two weeks. The season was highlighted by an early victory over conference champion Marshall and the three most exciting games with the rival Luverne Cardinals. The Arrows were denied all three times losing by 1, 3, and 2 points. The team was better than the record indicated and with many juniors seeing a lot of action this year the future looks bright for next year's team.

SPRING

LYCEUMS....

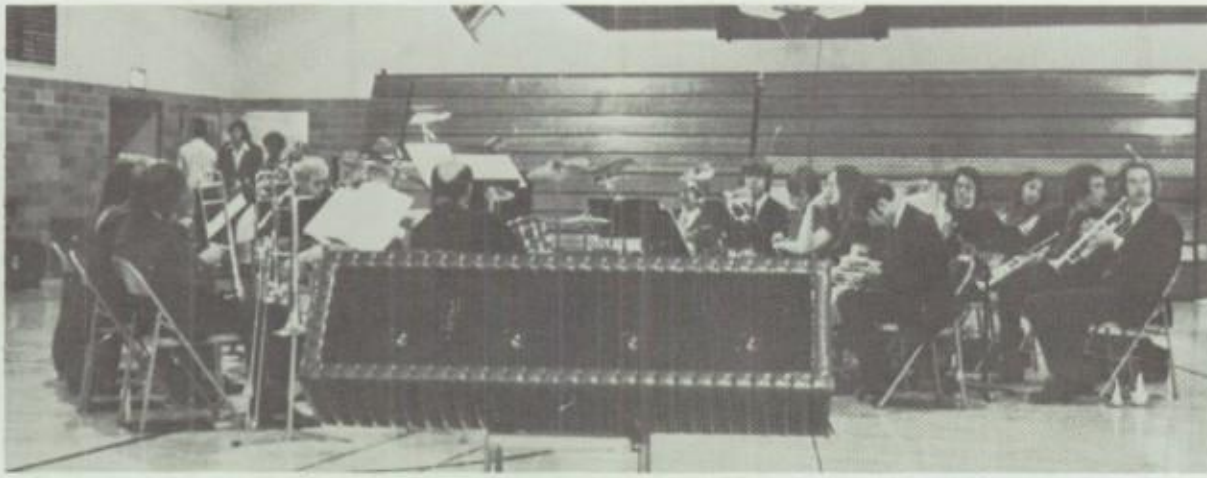

Pipestone High held three lyceums this year. On October 1, the Saxons gave a demonstration of E.S.P. While blindfolded, Corrine identified objects the audience held up and associated them with their owners.

On October 17 the Viking Varieties show from Augustana College performed. The program contained a wide variety of entertainment ranging from Malaysian dancers to singing groups and a 50's band.

The final lyceum was provided by Russ Charles on March 6. Mr. Charles, a magician, performed feats of magic such as card tricks and making doves appear and disappear. Calling on volunteers from the audience, he was both entertaining and amusing.

PROM '74 - NIGHT OF THE DRAGON

Prom '74' began with a banquet at the Country Club, the highlight of the banquet was a speech made by Diane Halbur entitled "Little Nuts Become Big Oaks," in which some very interesting facts were learned about the seniors. Following the banquet everyone proceeded to the gym for the dance. The Juniors worked very hard to create "Night of the Dragon," complete with a Chinese hut, and a dragon. "Skogie" provided the music for the evening. Prom '74' ended with an all night show at the Drive-In.

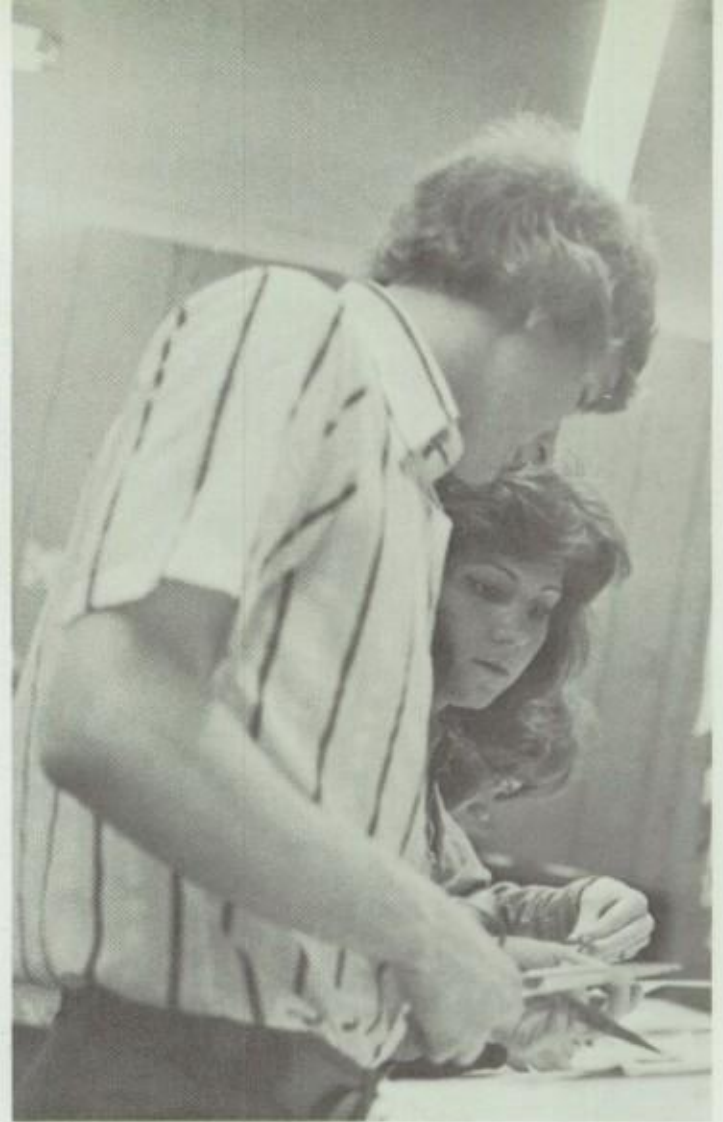

Under the direction of Mr. Willard Marwitz, the Smoke Signal again produced monthly papers informing the students of opinions, activities, and student and faculty achievements. A number of feature columns were included in the paper this year such as Random Jottings by Wendy Wiersma, Peek-a-Boo by Jill Field, Tom's Tales by Tom Walker, and the Record Review by Greg Ausham. Co-editors for 1974 were Liz Boyd and Paula Loose.

"little nuts become big Oaks!"

Look, mother. I got all these pretty beans for the cow. You stupid boy, now we shall have to starve. She flung the beans out the open window. During the night the beans changed into a bean stalk and it grew and it grew and it grew... I'm sure you all remember that fairy tale from your childhood and you probably passed it off as unimportant and childlike. But a few of the adults of the community haven't. They contacted me and reported a change taking place in the Class of 74. They then hired me as a private detective to look into this matter, to see exactly what changes had taken place and what to do about the situation. I went about this as in all things, systematically. First, I contacted various people connected with the class. Namely teachers and my underground sources. In doing so I found some rather peculiar observations.

The following is my report and recommendation to the school administrators: Kindergarden, besides participating in show and tell (or bring and brag) sleeping on rugs and general fooling around nothing of major importance took place. It must be noted however, that Mike Ludolph could be seen quite often peddling a tricycle or pushing his favorite wheel-barrow down the street.

First grade found the youngsters to be a little less frightened of the world and more independent. Ian Cunningham refused to make his mother a Mother's Day card because she refused to give him a badly wanted saddle due to his bad grades. Mary Jones stayed after school one afternoon to show her teacher her scar from her recent operation. Randy Ronning refused to admit that he had a temperature of 104 because then his mother wouldn't let him go on a shopping trip to Sioux Falls after school. Tom Walker spent every noon coloring to improve his work so he could get a GOLD STAR, the ultimate for a first grader. But even with their new found independence, the 1st graders still had a few faults. Mrs. Deadrich discovered one afternoon that someone had wet his pants and left his mark. The culprit was John Whipple.

In second grade personalities and imaginations seemed to grow. Andy Bundlie was found to be shy and quiet while Randy Ronning was known to be the Cassanova of second grade. Mark Yseth was an extremely good puppet designer. I had the chance to see one of his works and believe me it was one of the nicest cows I've seen in a long time! Tom Newgard was a growing boy in second grade and he was too large for the desk. He thus balanced it on his knees and when he moved, he made a thumping sound. Writing stories was a favorite of the class and I have a sample of one of the student's work.

THE DUCK THAT MISSED THE BUS

It was late in the fall on a Sunday when the duck bus came. It stopped and honked it's horn. But Quacky didn't come out so the bus went without him. Then he came. But it was gone. So he flew and fell down by a home. Then he got up and flew and flew. Then somebody shot him. So he bandaged himself and got a drink and flew off again. Then it rained and rained but Quacky didn't get wet because he greased his feathers well before he left. Then it snowed. So he got out his skies and put them on. So he went skiing and went into a straw stack and that was home for the winter. The End by Stephen Thies

The students seemed to be non-existent in Pipestone during 3rd grade. But in Washington, Brian Franklin was teaching himself to dive. Quite a notable feat for a 3rd grader. Brian chose a rock approximately three feet high but forgot to find the water in which to jump. Brian dove, landed on his head and knocked himself out.

Fourth grade - Mrs. Rusches, an inexperienced teacher taught one class and because of her lack of discipline, caused a very embarrassing incident. Dennis Aanenson talked back during reading and Mrs. Rusches took after him with a ruler. Dennis, being faster and trickier, made a quick turn but the teacher didn't quite make it. She slid under the desk, got up crying, and quite angry...and what a view while it lasted!! Almost a class in sex education. Tonnelt class was the hit of 4th grade. You'd expect Bruce Linnemeyer to have been a star but Mr. Opland was known to have gone home and cried at night. It was reported that Debra Moore and Tom Newgard began their romance in 4th grade. Vickie Stoltenburg was a hit in her white go-go boots.

Growing and learning continued in 5th grade. The students snowed growing maturity and responsibility. Duaine Marxen showed a lack of this maturity when his new white pants got spattered with mud. A muddy ball was thrown to him, hitting his pants, and he promptly cried. Also during this year, some of the not so lucky students were initiated into a very exclusive club. The initiation consisted of placing silver bands on the teeth and then being asked by fellow students if they were wired for sound! They were called such noteworthy names as Iron Mouth and Tin Grin. Tom Newgard should remember this, he was known as Tinsel Teeth Tom. But Debra didn't seem to mind, as their romance continued.

Sixth Grade - The students are now the oldest and supposedly the most sophisticated in the school. Why then did Tom get stuck down the trap door in the basement of the school room? But Debbie didn't mind because the romance still continued!! The operetta was of major importance in the life of the 6th grader. Ian Cunningham was the hero, Cheryl Schroyer the heroine, Tim Texley was the steam boat Sam, sailing up and down the Mississippi winning all the girls hearts. Dennis Aanenson was Sidney. He was the tattle tale...the big mouth...an all around pain. When contacting some of my sources, special traits in some of the students were remembered. Mrs. Hanson will always remember Linda Serie for being sober and industrious, Sheila Olson for her devotion, Liz Boyd for her kindness, Joe Bostic for his wonderful personality! Paula Loose for causing never a dull moment! Lyle and Vicky were going together back in 6th grade and Liz O'Connor should always remember May 1st in the 6th grade. Joe Pierret presented her with the biggest May basket in the history of Dolson Hill.

Seventh Grade - Mr. Cheney was a major asset to the class and many memorable events took place in his classroom. Joe should always remember the day when his head was placed in Mr. Cheney's desk drawer and he was tickled. Connie Westerbur practically did a strip tease act in class when her dress strap broke. Nicknames such as Ingamar for Patti Johansen, Yes siree for Linda Serie, and Easter Bunny for Connie Westerbur were dubbed to these people. Mr. Swanson's science class was also a learning experience for the class. "Ferdinand" the pet hamster was once placed in Cindy Nelson's pencil case. Upon discovering it, she reacted as most responsible 7th grade girls would. She SCREAMED!! The class was reprimanded, of course. Romance continued and even increased in Junior High. Cheryl and Jim, Mark and Deb, G. L. and Jill, were a few of the names scribbled on notebooks. Basketball was a star studded sport in 7th grade. The team consisted of Lyle, Joe, Dave, Tom, and Jim...winning six of their seven games. Dave and Tom were a great asset to the team and the coach had great hopes for the future for them. Now I might be mistaken, but weren't Dave and Tom on the wrestling team this year?

Eighth grade - Drivers training was a major event during this year, although no one fainted during the all famous movies. I have reports of queezy stomachs erupting. Robert Hubner was a major asset to this class. Have you ever wondered why he's called Rocket? I've come to the conclusion it's because he ran through approximately eight stop signs a day. Andy changed from art to sports in 8th grade. He was a member of the football and track teams at that time. He probably would have made a good front lines man. Mrs. Stoeber shall always fondly remember Joe Bostic. She was so fond of him that his desk was placed permanently in the closet. Cheryl and Bill, Lorie and Lyle, Sawn and Bill Brockberg were some of the couples of that year.

Ninth Grade - Drivers training in 9th grade, especially for Duaine Marxen. He had to take his drivers test 3 times! Joe Pierret had to bake a batch of chocolate chip cookies for the Home Ec. Dept. after he ate the first batch the girls made. Gar Peterson was caught with a Play Boy magazine in the locker room and Joe Bostic broke Mr. Nangle's watch. The infamous basketball team was well known for winning all their games and breaking down a locker room door? Tim Texley was a member of that team and one evening he was playing an especially good game until he made two points for the other team. Paula Loose and Tom Newgard, Lori and Tom Hubner and Chris and Randy were the couples of that year.

Tenth Grade - G. L. Tucker was fond of placing tin foil on the ends of the electric cord for the film strip projector. Mr. Kooistra was promptly electrocuted. The second game of the season the boys got 8 technicals during one basketball game! And Harley Zeinstra was reported to have broken his leg under a hay wagon. Dawn and Gary Linder and Lori and Craig Evert were the prominent couples of that year.

Eleventh Grade - Supposedly by the time you reach your junior year you were to be blessed with the graces of poise, charm, and maturity, but that's not the case in this class. Lori Remme decided to move up in the social world and got caught in the act of flirting with the Jackson track coach. Donna Gewecke broke her arm falling off a curb and Prom ended the year with a big bang, even if the decorations did lack!

The senior year brought with it glory, honor, fame, and childlike actions. Andy, Phil, Kim, Bill, and Bruce could be seen at times running up and down the streets dressed as clowns and performing midnight raids at Mr. Majeski's house. Gary Sundermeyer's impressions of Mr. Gromer and Mr. Ronning are still a treat for the few of us that have heard them. The fame of the senior year came in the form of music for Bruce, baseball for Craig, writing for Wendy, speech for Liz, jumping for Tom, basketball for Jim and Lyle, singing for Cheryl, drama for Cindy, Bill, Deb, and Gary and the success of the past yearbooks for Phil.

Administrators, after evaluating my finding I just want to ask you one question. Are you sure the world is ready for this? Even though the students have had broken arms, flunked, tests, wet pants and all around acted childlike, I do think it is time to send them out into the unsuspecting world. If you couldn't teach them anything by now, you had better give up. They must now face the world on their own. As a great poet once said:

Dream what you dare to dream

Go where you want to go

Be what you want to be...

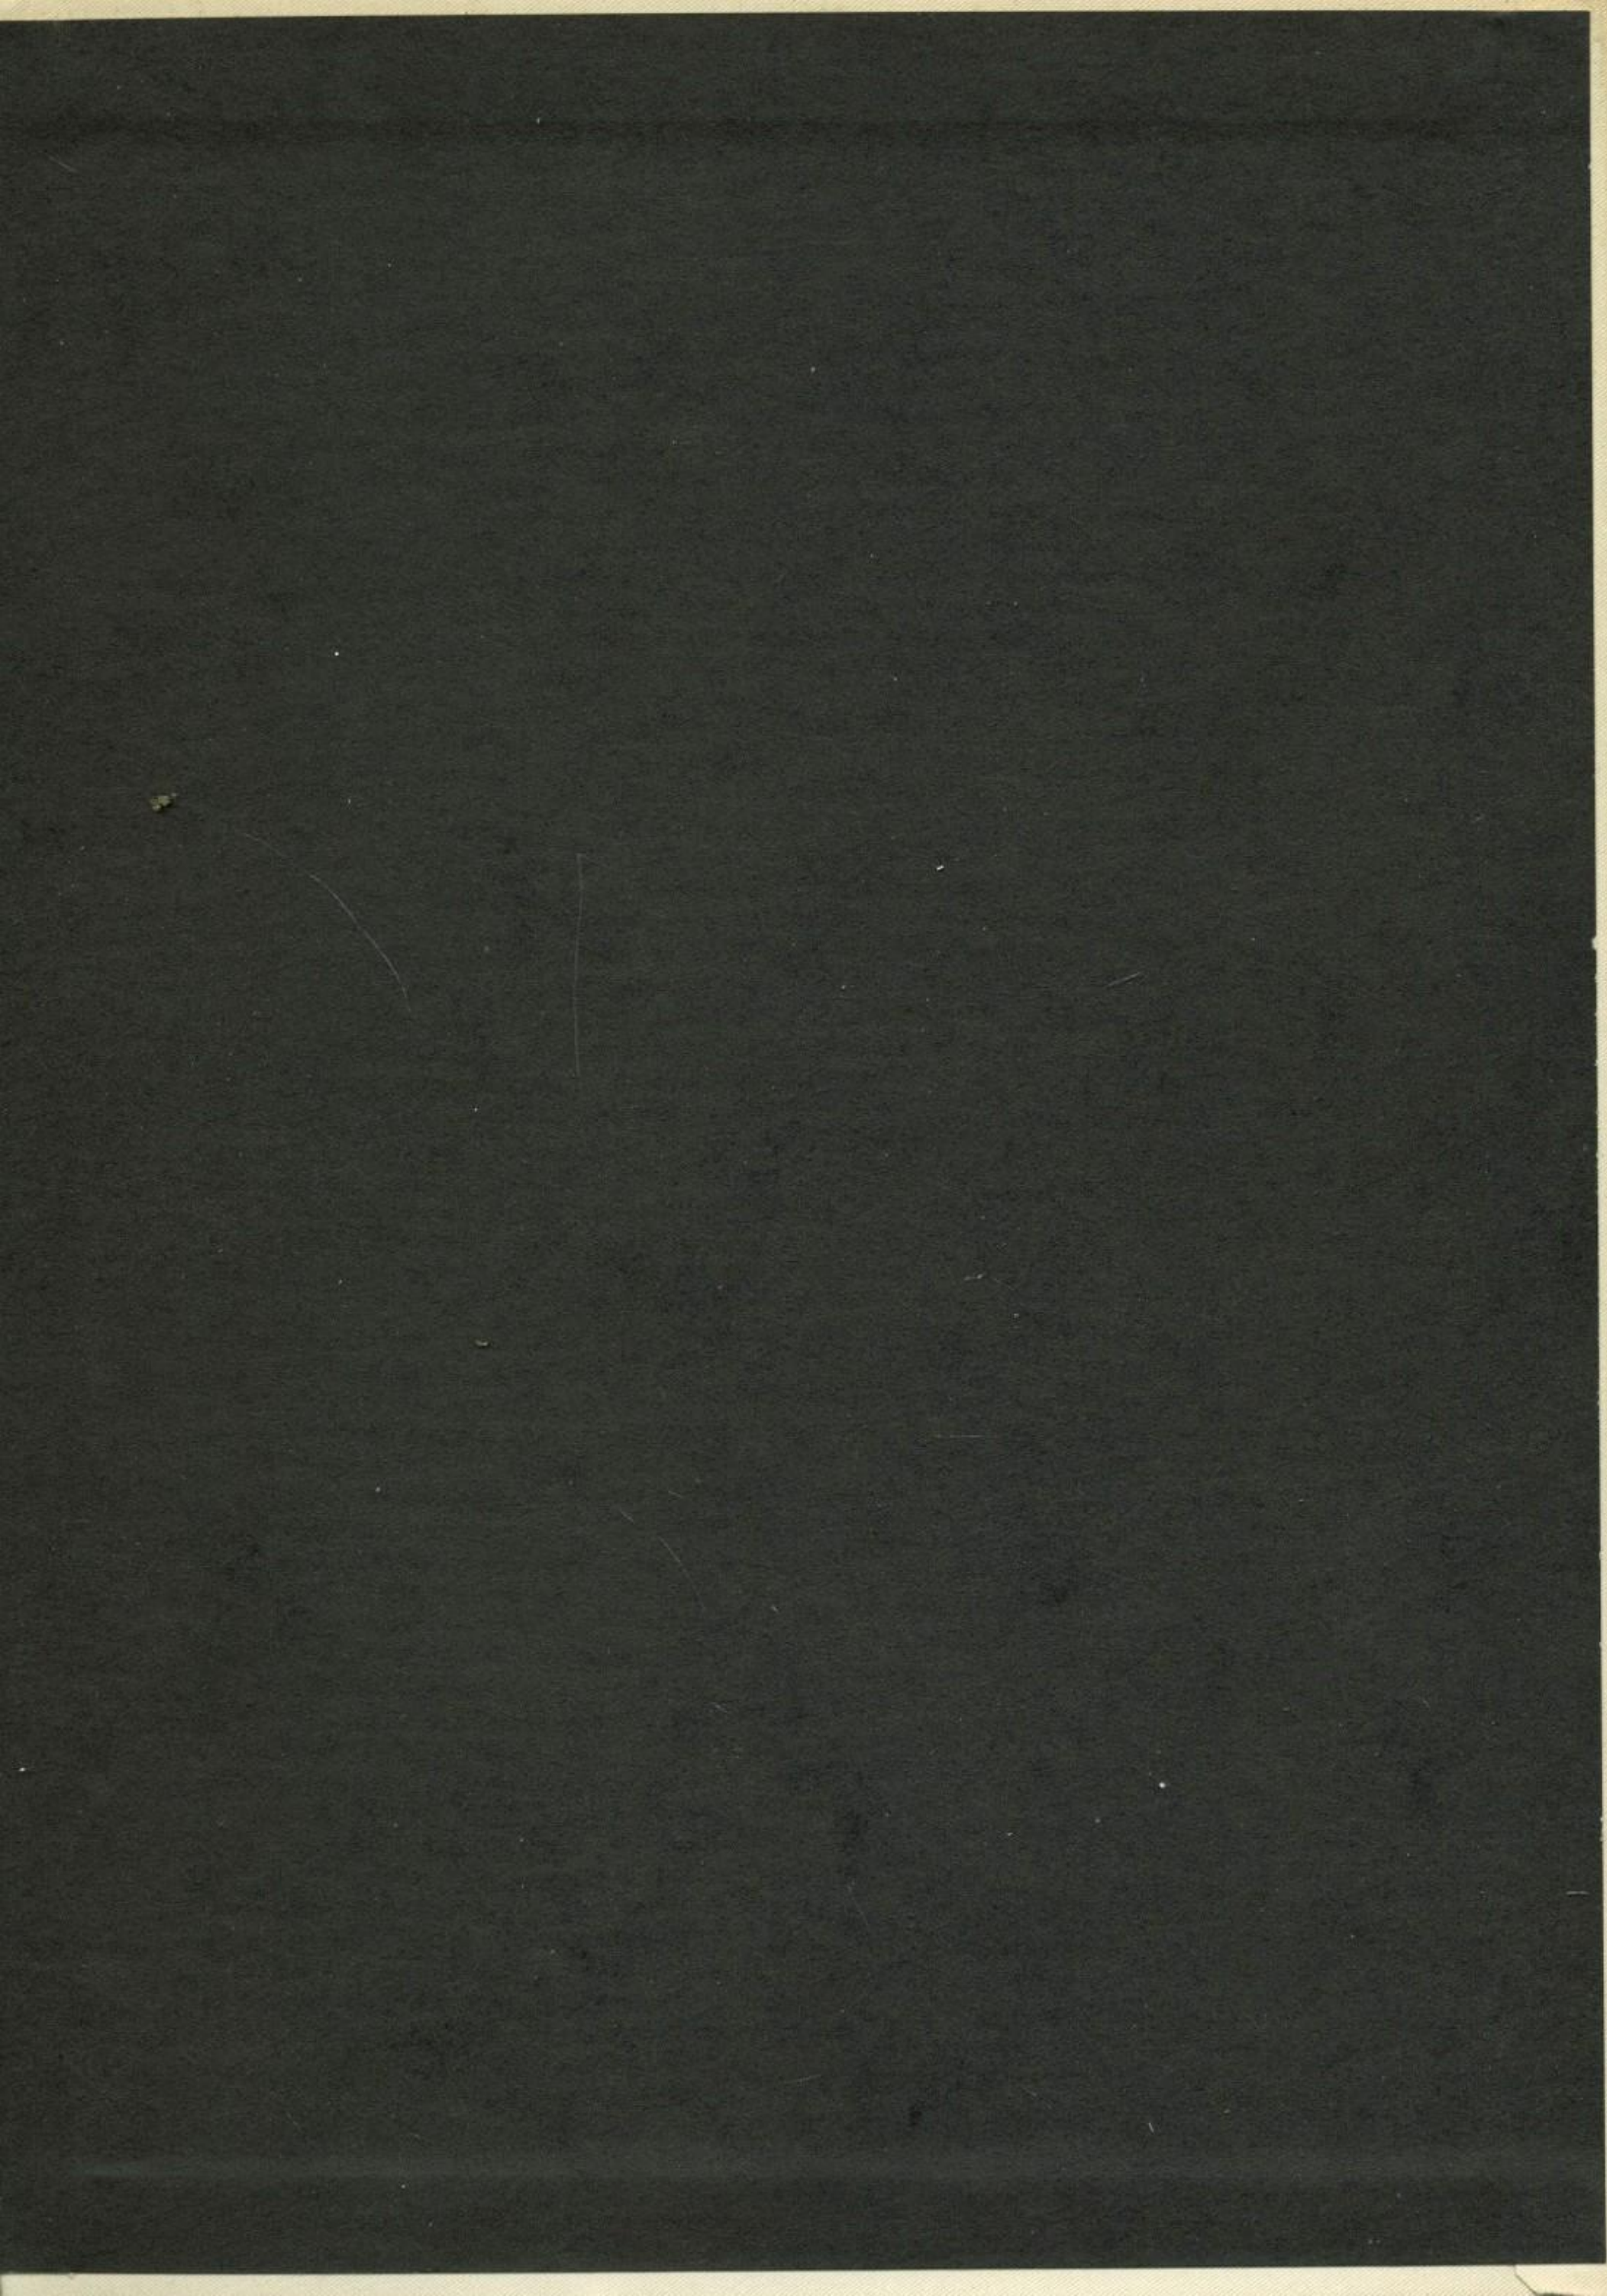

LIVE

and the time has come for the seniors to do just that!!!
